

Newmont Corp. (NEM): Strong start to year; Rapid de-leveraging supports near/medium term outlooks/ongoing capital returns; Buy

NEM's 1Q adjusted/underlying EBITDA of US$2.6bn beat expectations by 16%, with gold production ~2% ahead (Tier 1 1.34Moz), realised pricing ~3% higher, and better than expected costs (partly on lower 1Q spend; catch up in 2Q). On a proportional share basis (incl. PV/FdN), we estimate NEM's 1Q25 Tier 1/core EBITDA was ~US$2.45bn and up ~50% YoY, where we forecast this growing ~34% to ~US$11bn in CY25E (from ~US$8.1bn in CY24), and further ~15% in CY26E.

On capital management, a 1Q dividend payout of US25cps was in-line, with ~US$0.35bn spent on the buy-back in 1Q and another ~US$0.4bn repurchased in April (leaving ~US$1bn remaining through Oct-26 before extension). NEM had reported net debt of US$3.2bn (cash of ~US$4.7bn), where on the capital management framework we imply >US$5bn of liquidity, with the recent divestment closures (net of 2Q impacts) taking this to ~US$6bn (limited debt repayments due the next 3-5 years; average interest cost ~4.4%).

CY25 guidance was maintained, with NEM reiterating group Tier 1 attributable gold production at ~5.6Moz (2H weighted) and gold AISC of ~US$1,620/oz (GSe >US$1,700/oz; upside risk to gold sector AISCs with higher gold/royalties, partly offset by falling oil/diesel prices). Capex guidance is unchanged (see within for full asset performance and guidance breakdown, including non-operated assets). Timing of projects (major projects at Ahafo North, Tanami, and Cadia), along with stripping/improvement works at Boddington/Lihir/etc. remain on track. NEM also begun reporting by-product cash costs and AISC at US$930/oz and US$1,447/oz respectively (slightly better than GSe in the quarter), which we expect will make comparison to peers easier for investors (our prior comparison work here).

We remain Buy rated, where despite strong 3/5yr production growth combined with gold pricing supporting 3/5yr core EBITDA CAGRs of >10% and transitioning to net cash by mid-CY26E (supporting increased capital management via dividends/ongoing buy-backs), on our estimates NEM trades at a discount to peers (~5x proportional EBITDA, ~0.85x NAV, pricing ~US$2,590/oz LT gold vs. peers at ~5-7x EV/EBITDA, ~1x NAV & ~US$2,785/oz). Near-term FCF yields of >10% in CY25-29E also remain attractive. We note we value NEM's ~32% effective stake in Fruta del Norte at ~US$2.1bn (~US$6.6bn on a 100% basis before 4Q24 net cash of ~US$0.35bn) on our US$2,850/oz LT gold price, before any resource upside.

Key takeaways

■ Earnings: NEM reported 1Q adjusted/underlying EBITDA of US$2.6bn, a 16% beat vs. GSe/Visible Alpha Consensus Data on a ~2% production/ ~3% realised pricing beat, and better than expected costs (partly on timing of costs (slower spending at some assets), with 2Q now expected to be the highest cost quarter). This was up 55% YoY (including ~41% higher realised gold prices), though down ~14% QoQ on production timing and divestments, taking 1Q25 EBITDA margins to ~52% (up from 42% in 1Q24; 54% in 4Q24). Adjusted/underlying NPAT of ~US$1.4bn was also well ahead. We highlight that on a proportional share basis (incl. PV/FdN), we estimate NEM's 1Q25 Tier 1/core EBITDA was ~US$2.45bn and up ~50% YoY, where we forecast this growing ~34% to ~US$11bn in CY25E (from ~US$8.1bn in CY24), and further ~15% in CY26E. See Exhibit 1 below for financials/production performance.

- Balance sheet/capital management: NEM finished the first quarter with reported net debt including leases/adjustments down to US$3.2bn (cash of ~US$4.7bn; net debt excl leases of US$2.8bn), better than expectations on the above. A 1Q dividend payout of US25cps was in-line, with ~US$0.35bn spent on the buy-back in 1Q and another ~US$0.4bn repurchased in April (leaving ~US$1bn remaining under current authorization of US$3bn authorized through Oct-26 before any extensions, which we expect toward the end of the year if there are no changes in major capital spend).
- NEM noted they will look for opportunities to bolster the balance sheet in the current gold price environment, including early debt repayments (we note most drawn debt facilities retain compelling rates, with an average interest cost of ~4.4% and only one facility >6%), though with no specific intent for improved flexibility at this point in time. On NEM's capital management framework, we see this implying >US$5bn of liquidity, with the recent closure of the Akyem and Porcupine divestments in mid-April (net of 2Q impacts) taking this to ~US$6bn (with limited debt repayments due over the next 3-5 years).
 - □ The capital management framework remains unchanged, with NEM targeting ~US$8bn of gross debt (NEM now below at ~US$7.5bn following an early debt repayment in the March quarter) for ~US$5bn of net debt (currently ~US$3.2bn reported net debt), preserving a ~US$1/sh ordinary annual dividend payout (we see this likely growing over the medim-term as the buy-back progresses, with nominal payouts remaining flat), steadily funding projects with ~US$1.3bnpa of development capital, with excess capital being returned to shareholders via the buy-back, where NEM expect timing of buy-back share repurchases likely to align with operating FCF and proceeds of non-core divestments. NEM have previously noted the buy-back will continue to be on the NYSE line, where preserving the ASX CDI remains a priority given the asset exposure of the business (~25-30% of EBITDA/>30% of NAV on GSe).
 - ☐ On M&A, NEM have previously noted they remain focused on stabilising the existing portfolio through CY25 and the existing growth projects (Ahafo North, Cadia, Tanami), having to earn the right for continued growth spend, while makings sure future projects stack up on their own merit (see below).

■ CY25 guidance maintained/projects remain on track: NEM reiterated group Tier 1 attributable CY25 gold production guidance at ~5.6Moz (2H weighted) and gold AISC of ~US$1,620/oz (GSe >US$1,700/oz, where we continue to see upside risk to gold sector AISCs with higher gold/royalties (partly offset by falling oil/diesel prices), which as above, impacts NEM more on accounting as they attribute costs to gold vs. co-products roughly on revenue split). Overall group production, with divestments now completed was reiterated at ~5.9Moz (though is likely to be lower on divestment completion timing, where it was assumed these would take slightly longer to complete). Sustaining/development capex guidance for Tier 1 assets remains at ~US$1.8bn/US$1.3bn respectively. See from Exhibit 3 below for full asset performance and guidance breakdown, including non-operated assets.

- ☐ Timing of projects (major projects at Ahafo North, Tanami, and Cadia), along with stripping/improvement works at Boddington/Lihir/others remain on track.
- □ 2Q Tier 1 attributable production is expected to be relatively in line with 1Q as expected production growth from the non-operated joint ventures, Cerro Negro, Brucejack and Boddington is offset by declines at Ahafo South and Cadia. Unit costs in 2Q are expected to be similar to slightly higher than 1Q (previously expected to be the highest cost quarter) due to higher sustaining capital spend, with costs in 1Q below expectations (partly on Canada asset spend timing). NEM noted the 2Q will include limited high cost ounces from Porcupine and Akyem, reflecting production prior to the close of those transactions on April 15. Sustaining capital is expected to peak in the 2Q as planned investment ramps up, where compared to the 1Q, 2Q FCF is expected to be lower adversely impacted by the divestment of the non-core assets, higher tax payments related to increased profitability in previous periods and taxes from the divestments, higher planned development capital at Ahafo North and Cadia, and the continued ramp-up of spending on construction of the Yanacocha water treatment facilities.
- Production/costs: Tier 1/core portfolio attributable gold production of 1.34Moz for 1Q was ahead of expectations with strong quarters at Cadia/Ahafo more than offseting softer production at Cerro Negro (which is expected to improve in 2Q), though ~3% softer QoQ and ~16% YoY on production timing (CY25 guidance remains 2H weighted) and divestments (Musselwhite, Eleonore, and CC&V divestments completed in March). NEM has begun reporting by-product cash costs and AISC at US$930/oz and US$1,447/oz respectively (slightly better than GSe in the quarter), which we expect will make comparison to peers easier for investors (our prior comparison work here). On NEM's co-product reporting, as a result of higher gold prices, Tier 1 gold cash costs & AISC sold of US$1,198/oz & US$1,630/oz were up ~20% QoQ, though better than expected on cost timing (where we reiterate that with higher gold prices on NEM's co-product reporting, more of the nominal cost base is attributed to gold vs. the by-product offset method). Copper production of 35kt was ahead of GSe (largely Cadia), while both lead and zinc production were in-line. See from Exhibit 3 below for full asset performance and guidance breakdown (including non-operated asset previews).

Overall group attributable gold production (including non-core/divested assets) of 1.54Moz for 1Q was also slightly ahead of expectations by ~2%, taking overall gold cash costs & AISC to US$1,227/oz & US$1,651/oz, again below expectations. Note Nevada Gold Mines and Pueblo Viejo operator Barrick is set to report in the first week of May, along with Fruta del Norte owner, Lundin Gold (which pre-reported in-line gold production/sales here).

- North America (Red Chris, Brucejack, Penasquito, and non-core assets CC&V, Musselwhite, Eleonore, Porcupine) attributable gold production was 336koz for 1Q, broadly in-line with market expectations and down 25% QoQ (with the divestments of CC&V, Musselwhite, and Eleonore closing in Mar-25, and Porcupine closed in Apr-25). Gold cash cost of US$1,167/oz was up 15% QoQ on volumes, albeit below market expectations (-1%/-8% vs. GSe and Visible Alpha Consensus Data respectively). AISC sold of US$1,488/oz was also up 13% QoQ, though -5%/-8% below GSe and Visible Alpha Consensus Data respectively.
- □ Latin America (Yanacocha, Merian, Cerro Negro) attributable gold production was 180koz for 1Q (195koz consolidated), below expectations and down 21% QoQ, largely on reduced throughput at Cerro Negro (on safety management; expected to improve in 2Q, though we expect this to impact full year asset level guidance). Gold consolidated cash costs & AISC sold of US$1,332/oz & US$1,705/oz in the 1Q were above expectations (+6%/+14% vs. GSe and +15%/+22% vs. Visible Alpha Consensus Data respectively) on the lower sales volumes.
- □ Australia (Boddington, Cadia, Tanami) gold production was 307koz for 1Q, above expectations largely on a strong quarter at Cadia. Gold cash costs & AISC sold of US$1,060/oz & US$1,457/oz in the 1Q were below GSe and Visible Alpha Consensus Data on higher sales volume.
- □ PNG (Lihir) gold production was 164koz for 1Q, above expectations (+1% /+13% vs. GSe and Visible Alpha Consensus Data respectively) and up 1% QoQ. Gold cash costs & AISC sold of US$1,009/oz & US$1,339/oz in the 1Q were below expectations and down 34%/25% QoQ respectively (on non-cash inventory adjustments).
- □ Africa (Ahafo, Ahafo North (in construction), and non-core asset Akyem) gold production was 242koz for 1Q, down 4% QoQ but ahead of expectations after a strong quarter at Ahafo partially offset by Akyem underperformance (divestment closed Apr-25). Gold cash costs & AISC sold of US$1,411/oz & US$1,647/oz in the 1Q were above expectations on higher gold prices (+22%/+16% vs. GSe and +25%/+26% vs. Visible Alpha Consensus Data respectively).
- Nevada Gold Mines (non-operated) attributable gold production was 216koz for 1Q, behind expectations and down 23% QoQ, with operator Barrick set to report in the first week of May. NEM's reported gold cash costs & AISC sold of US$1,426/oz & US$1,789/oz in the 1Q were broadly in-line with GSe and above consensus expectations.

Other non-operated/consolidated equity interests (Pueblo Viejo, Fruta del Norte (via Lundin Gold): Attributable gold production was 92koz for 1Q, ahead of expectations (+14%/+22% vs. GSe and Visible Alpha Consensus Data respectively) on a stronger-than-expected result at Pueblo Viejo, with operator Barrick set to report in the first week of May. At Fruta del Norte, NEM-reported production was in-line as NEM consolidated the asset on a 1Q lag, with owner/operator Lundin Gold pre-reporting in-line gold production/sales here.

Investment thesis

We rate NEM with Buy relative to our Australian gold coverage on:

1. Valuation: On our LT gold price of US$2,850/oz NEM is trading on ~0.85x NAV, or pricing ~US$2,590/oz gold (peer average ~1x NAV and ~US$2,785/oz), while on proportional EBITDA (NEM equity share), NEM trades at a discount vs. peers. Near-term FCF yields of >10% in CY25-29E also remain attractive vs. peers and support ongoing upside to the outlook for capital returns (and somewhat cushion further impacts from a softer production outlook at more assets). We note we value NEM's ~32% effective stake in Fruta del Norte at ~US$2.1bn (~US$6.6bn on a 100% basis before 4Q24 net cash of ~US$0.35bn) on our US$2,850/oz LT gold price, before any additional resource upside from recent discoveries, with the market implied value of NEM's stake at ~US$3.2bn (implying further upside to our NEM valuation).

- 2. Strengthening margins (further supported by copper/other metal credits) add upside risk to capital returns: Cost improvements and unit economics on expansions look set to improve margin performance across the portfolio, with one of the strongest like for like margins vs. the peer set (further supported by copper and other metals revenue in parts of the business, also making the business more defensive in periods of softer gold pricing). We see this supporting an ongoing buyback and ahead of peer capital returns, with further potential upside from additional de-gearing/capital management on divestments completions, optimised/lower tailings spend at Cadia, and/or better performance across the asset base.
- 3. Diversified, self-fundable organic growth options: With growth options across the portfolio (Red Chris, Fruta del Norte resource upside, Yanacocha sulphides, Wafi-Golpu, Nueva Unión, Norte Abierto, etc.), we see NEM's growth outlook as more diversified and lower risk than some peers. While commitment to only 3 major projects at any one time may defer some value realisation (subject to the capital management framework), we see this de-risking sustained capital returns (even before accounting for project stake selldowns), where despite factoring in capex overruns on all projects vs. recent company guidance, we continue to see FCF/PT upside.

EPS and NAV changes, key investment risks

- We adjust our CY25-27 EPS -1%/-7%/-3% reflecting the 1Q financial result and refinements on outlook commentary detail (with earnings impacts partly offset by incrementally positive buy-back adjustments), with the bulk of the impact on divestment timing and our revised lower copper forecasts.
- Our NAV changes modestly to US$$60.95/sh for NEM and A$97.52/sh for NEM.AX (from US$61.16/sh and A$97.87/sh, respectively) on the above, better net debt, provisions updates, and a higher nominal value for longer-dated growth (including projects not in our base case, with studies progressing for Nueva Union, Norte Abierto, Galore Creek) and investments (reflecting equity stakes received for some divestments, and NEM's proportional share of the Lundin Gold net cash balance). Our 12m PTs soften ~2% to US$$58.4/sh and A$93.4/sh respectively (from US$59.7/sh and A$95.5/sh) on the above and below.
- Our 12m PT is set at an equal 50:50 blend of NAV and EV/EBITDA with a 5.5x target multiple (unchanged).

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html.

The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company neither has a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS).
